DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 4-8, 10-16, 18, 19, and 21-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Boyle et al. (U.S. 6,537,294).

Note in figures 1, 2, and 4-7, a proximal strut assembly (34) connected to a distal strut assembly (32), wherein the distal strut assembly having an inlet opening which expands and conforms to the vessel wall and a filter member (36) attached thereon; wherein the proximal strut assembly (34) is adapted to be rotatably attached to an elongated member or guide wire (28); wherein the proximal and distal struts (32,34) includes a plurality of expandable struts (at between (32,34) See fig. 2)) and wherein the proximal strut (34) includes a pair of self-expanding struts (at 34) and wherein the struts (32,34) forming the proximal strut is made from a different material than the distal strut (32) wherein the distal strut includes filter (36) in fully assembly and further including coil wire (28) and obturator (46) attached to the distal strut (32).

Boyle et al is clearly teaches the method steps as claimed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 9/3/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to claim 1, In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., proximal strut assembly which is offset from the distal strut assembly) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). The Examiner disagrees with Applicant's remarks that Boyle patent fails to disclosed the proximal strut assembly is adapted to extend substantially along the wall of the body vessel when placed in the expanded position due to the fact that Boyle patent is clearly disclosed this feature. The examiner has maintained the grounds of rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) as being anticipated by Boyle for the same reasons as set forth in the previous office action, paragraph 2, paper No. 6.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
